RE: INVITATION TO CAREER GUIDANCE TRAINING FOR TEACHERS IN PRIMARY & JUNIOR AND SENIOR SCHOOLS

The Kenya Education Management Institute (KEMI) is a Management Development Institute and the capacity-building agency of the Ministry of Education mandated to provide education management training, conduct research, and offer consultancy services in the education sector. In fulfilment of its mandate and in support of Effective Career Development for learners, KEMI has organised Career Guidance Training for Teachers in Primary and Junior Schools & Senior Schools. The programme is designed to equip participants with the knowledge, skills, and competencies required to provide career guidance, identify learners' interests, abilities, talents, and aspirations, and support them in making informed educational and career pathway choices.

The training scheduled virtually from 24th - 26th August 2026 will expose participants to career guidance career information and exploration, learner profiling, identification and nurturing of talents, labour-market trends, career pathways under Competency-Based Education (CBE), and effective engagement of parents and other stakeholders. It will also strengthen participants' capacity to establish and coordinate career guidance activities and programmes within their schools.

Teachers in Primary & Junior Schools and Senior Schools are therefore invited to participate in this important training by registering and paying KSh.1,000.00 only to cater for the (3) three-day training and certification. Participants will be expected to have access to an appropriate digital device and a reliable internet connection to facilitate active engagement throughout the training. Detailed programme information, including the training schedule and joining instructions, will be communicated before the commencement of the training.

Your participation in this programme will contribute significantly to strengthening career guidance in schools and empowering learners to make informed decisions regarding their education, talents, career pathways, and future aspirations.

We look forward to your participation.
